Tempt your tastebuds at Twilight Tastings

More than 25 suppliers will delight foodies once again this year at Hastings Co-op's hugely popular Twilight Tastings at Wauchope Showground.

The countdown has begun for the March 24 event, which promises a more family-friendly focus and an expanded line-up of entertainment and local food and beverage suppliers.

"The overwhelming success of last year's Twilight Tastings cemented it on the Wauchope calendar and this year we've added new entertainment and attractions for all ages," event organiser and Hastings Co-op's liquor division manager Lisa Attkins said.

"As well as showcasing producers from near and far, we will have Farmers Market stalls, live music from Hannah Pead and Blue Hype, children's entertainment, a range of food options, tastings from Timbertown IGA deli and amazing deals exclusive to the event.

"Entry is only $5 and children under 18 are free and it's all about celebrating beer, wine, spirits and food in a relaxed environment where suppliers can share their products and locals can try something new."

Delights will range from chocolates, salamis, cheese and strawberries to award-winning wines from local wineries, well-known spirits and boutique beers.

"More than 700 people attended last year, more than doubling the previous year, and there was a real sense of community, which the Hastings is renowned for," Mrs Attkins said.

"Hastings Co-op is passionate about fresh, local produce and supporting local suppliers wherever we can, so Twilight Tastings is a perfect fit and we invite all our valued customers to come along," Mrs Attkins said.
